5. It was directed to look into the possibility of connecting all the existing roads on both sides of the canal and providing two-lane links with rotary bridge intersections in two or three new locations.
6. It was also directed to explore the feasibility of the above-mentioned points and also to explore other innovative options for implementation of the links through the consultant viz., M/s. L&T Infrastructure Engineering Limited, either by extension of the contract already awarded for the study or by additional award of a contract by following due procedures.
