Training Programme on "Roof Gardening"

One day training programme on 'Roof Gardening' will be conducted by the Urban Horticulture Development Centre (UHDC) of Tamil Nadu Agricultural University, on Thursday, 19.08.2010. The venue is at UHDC, New No.P-44, 6th Avenue, Anna Nagar, (Near K-4 Police Station) Chennai-40 from 9.30 AM to 4.30 PM.

In urban and sub-urban areas the growing of fruits and vegetables is much restricted due to migration of peoples and expansion of residential areas. Roof gardening is a recent concept primarily intended for continuous supply of fresh fruits, vegetables through the year for family use. Apart from this, medicinal plants grown in roof garden can cure certain human diseases. Family members residing in urban and rural areas can easily establish and maintain the roof garden. Month of August is the ideal condition for raising the plants at the roof top garden.

The programme is open to housewives and any interested persons. Interested persons can get the information regarding the training and fee details before the training.
