CMDA press release

Inauguration of CMDA's pavilion

The CMDA pavilion was formally inaugurated by Thiru Parithi E llamvazhithi, Hon'ble Minister for Information and Urban Development and Chairman, CMDA on 27-12.2009 at 11.00 AM at India Tourist Trade Fair at Islands Grounds, Chennai - 9 in the presence of Tmt. Susan Mathew, IAS., Additional Chief Secretary and Vice Chairperson, CMDA, and Thiru Vikram Kapur, IAS., Member Secretary, CMDA.

The growth of the metropolis from Madraspattinam to the present day metropolitan area and its planned future growth are depicted through photographs of heritage buildings, collage of existing city scenes, a large model of the metropolitan area, maps and posters, which will be of interest to all citizens of this historic city.

The Hon'ble Minister also launched the CMDA's internet facility to access land use maps of the Second Master Plan(SMP) and the approved Detailed Development Plans(DDP). The Hon'ble Chairman, CMDA stated that even though the Second Master Plan was approved about a year ago, all the 398 maps of SMP and 56 maps of DDPs have to be carefully converted into computer compatible digital format with security features to make it suitable for hosting on the net. The digital maps have been prepared by CMDA's GIS Cell in house and the web hosting has been designed and enabled by NIC. The details can be browsed and prints of the maps/plans can be taken free of cost by accessing the CMDA's web site cmdachennai.gov.in by the general public themselves without coming to CMDA's office at Egmore. During the launch Thiru P.Krishnaprasad, State Informatic Officer, NIC was also present.
